

If your school gets the coronavirus (COVID-19) catch-up premium grant in academic year 2020 to 2021, you should publish details of:

- how it is intended that the grant will be spent
- how the effect of this expenditure on the educational attainment of those pupils at the school will be assessed

Back on track training for English and Maths subject leaders to equip them, and to disseminate to other teachers, for teaching the recovery curriculum to pupils. (£1236)

Supply teachers so that subject leaders are able to visit other classes, during the school day, to assess gaps in learning in their subject which need to be plugged. (£825)

Purchase of further books. During the lockdown, many children did not read at all or enough. To accelerate reading progress and to encourage the love of reading for pleasure, the range of books has been extended.

Further details to be added as they occur.
